

KABBALAH, WOMEN + DREAMS

A CONVERSATION FEATURING CATHERINE SHAINBERG, PH.D. + RABBI JILL HAMMER, PH.D.

Hybrid. Two of the most influential and insightful women teaching Kabbalah today, Dr. Catherine Shainberg and Rabbi Jill Hammer, will explore how Kabbalah—previously closed to women—impacts our daily lives and opens a path to a new understanding of the imaginal world as a transformational force on the personal, community, and global level. Drawing deeply on the pervasive presence and importance of dreams and imagery—the tools of prophets and visionaries—Dr. Shainberg and Rabbi Hammer, moderated by Alana Newhouse, will discuss and demonstrate how to access what the Zohar describes as “Shining with the light of the sapphire” (Zohar I, 8a), the power through which the Divine gifts of dreams and imagery open a new way to create, transform, and manifest. Cosponsored by The School of Images, Kohenet: The Hebrew Priestess Institute, and the Edlavitch DCJCC.

SUN, JUN 12, 7-8:30 PM, PAY WHAT YOU WISH;
$5 MINIMUM FOR VIRTUAL/$15 MINIMUM FOR IN PERSON

FOR MORE INFO + TO REGISTER, VISIT MMJCCM.ORG/MAKOM

Catherine Shainberg, an internationally renowned transpersonal psychologist, lecturer, teacher, visionary, and award-winning author, draws upon Torah and Kabbalah as sacred portals to using dreams and imagery in her work with thousands of clients and students around the world.

Jill Hammer is a prolific author of books and scholarly articles, an acclaimed midrashist, translator, poet, ritualist, and dreamworker. In her work as a rabbi and counselor, she understands dreams as an Undertorah, a source of wisdom, revelation, and healing.

Alana Newhouse is the editor-in-chief of Tablet Magazine, which she founded in 2009.

